

We are very pleased to welcome you again to our museums.

We would like to make your stay in our municipal museums, here specifically the Reichskammergerichtsmuseum, as pleasant as possible despite the Corona pandemic.

The number of visitors must therefore be limited so that safety distances can be maintained. Until further notice, we do not offer any accompanying tours of the exhibitions and do not provide media guides. With a smartphone and your own headphones, you can use our audio guide to the Reichskammergerichtsmuseum by downloading the smartphone app via the QR code available in the entrance area. The Imperial Chamber Court Museum is open to visitors by appointment.

Please observe the following rules in order not to endanger yourself or others:

- Wearing a mouth-nose mask is mandatory.
- Please keep a minimum distance of 2 meters to other people.
- Please minimize personal contact (also with the supervisors).
- Please also pay attention to the information boards on hygiene in the toilets and instructions on distance rules in the ticket office area and in the exhibition rooms.
- Disinfectants are available in the entrance area for disinfecting hands.
